Art and Emotion

Sometimes the most precious things are hidden.

Yet the power of a project is always underpinned by research and innovation. In the case of Adeum the technical side – invisible, yet no less fundamental – places itself at the service of an exceptional ludic device, revolutionizing the classic concept of entertainment.

What's more our exclusive interior design, made in Italy and customized to meet individual needs, enables a highly effective application scenario, which emphasizes the interior designer's creativity. The result is an almost dreamlike environment, perfect to experience movies and music as it was originally intended.

Hidden technology and carefully studied interior design enable you to welcome your family and friends into the magical world of narration, of interactive technology, or of live concerts, whose notes you will enjoy as you would never have imagined. And you will experience emotions that you will never forget.

Cinema Redefined

We create solutions for exclusive personal cinemas through which you can experience the beauty of dreams through your emotions. With ADEUM Cinema Suite your perception of 'real' will seem suspended: a surprising, captivating voyage that transports you to a realm of unprecedented sounds and images.

By deploying the most advanced technology and our engineering skills, we redefines the "state of the art" of the film-watching experience.

This can only be achieved through constant research, cutting-edge technical expertise, and the capacity to optimize and perfectly integrate the best technological components.

It is because of our passion that we never stop, even when we reach our goal: to create reference performance spaces through perfect synthesis of science, technology, Italian design and craftsmanship.

Custom Designed & Made in Italy

Each ADEUM Cinema Suite project is one of a kind project with the goal of reaching the highest possible performance level from each of the AV products used. Everything is carefully integrated with a custom acoustic solution for each project that perfectly blends the best available technology with the world's most elegant and exclusive interior design.

We focus completely on maximum possible performance while eliminating everything else that is not necessary or that stands in a way of reaching the true reference experience. No detail is too small for our attention and everything has to be designed, engineered, installed, integrated and calibrated until it reaches our highest standards. And until it surpasses all your expectations.

We blend art, technology and emotion to create a truly magical experience.
